

ARTICLES

Of Incorporation of Schneck Memorial Hospital Filed.

The articles of incorporation of the Schneck Memorial Hospital have been filed in the office of the secretary of state at Indianapolis. The purpose is to establish and maintain a hospital in and for the city of Seymour. The trustees named are B. F. Schneck, J. H. Matlock, M. S. Blish, George Breitfield, N. M. Carlson, W. J. Durham, C. H. Cordes, W. H. Reynolds and P. A. Nichter. There is no capital stock.

Plans are now under way for the erection of the building which Mrs. Schneck will probably locate on the lot purchased for that purpose a few months ago at the northeast corner of Bruce and Poplar streets, opposite the German Methodist church. Other locations have been considered each of which was found to have some objections. In a few instances where the advisability of purchasing residence property and remodeling the same into a hospital was considered it was decided that to purchase the property and then to remodel the building would make the cost exceed by far the amount which is being considered for that purpose. It is said that to remodel either of the proposed residences into such a hospital as it is desired to have, would cost almost as much to build a new hospital. The relatives of Mrs. Schneck both here and elsewhere are going over the matter carefully with her and the board of trustees are consulting with her that her wishes may be carried out and the public good the best served. Mrs. Schneck has been very liberal about the matter more than could have been asked and it is safe to say that when the people of Seymour have contributed liberally toward furnishing the hospital, Seymour will have a hospital second to none in this locality for convenience and adaptability.

The committee expect to erect a new hospital, one that will be very useful and satisfactory when it is completed and their intention now is to have it ready to occupy by the fall of the year.

Notice.

I desire to inform the public that I have taken the management of The New Lynn Grill Room, where we will keep on hands at all times, lunch of all kinds at popular prices. We also will be prepared to serve banquets on short notice. Special attention will be given small parties. I will be pleased to have my friends call and see me.

Respectfully,
GEORGE STEINKAMP, JR.

Congregational Meeting.

Do not forget the Congregational meeting at the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening March 23 at 7:30 o'clock. At the close of the business session, refreshments will be served. Every member of the church and congregation are urged to be present.

Second Baptist Church.

A series of revival meetings is now in progress at the Second Baptist church. Elder W. H. Walker, of Indianapolis, is conducting the services and much enthusiasm is being shown by the members and friends of the church.

MALOTT—James H. Malott, seventy-three years old, a former business man of Tunnelton and Mitchell, Ind., died at his home, 956 West Thirtieth street, in Indianapolis, Sunday morning, of paralysis. For many years he was engaged in the mercantile business at Tunnelton and Mitchell and was well known in southern Indiana. He was a cousin of Volney T. Malott, of Indianapolis. Claude Malott, former mayor of Bloomington, Ind., is a son. A widow and four sons survive.

The remains passed through this city this morning accompanied by a number of the relatives enroute to Tunnelton where the funeral and burial will occur today.

Class Confirmed.

A class of twenty-one young people was confirmed at the German Lutheran church Sunday. This is the first class to go out from the school since Rev. Eggers became pastor of the church. The class consists of five boys and sixteen girls as follows: Otto Barth, Martin Plump, Alfred Pollert, Henry Pollert, Otto Rittmann, Anna Bretthauer, Selma Droege, Laura Schulte, Clara Witte, Sylvia Leyel, Edna Kasting, Emma Nuss, Lillian Osterman, Eleonor Topie, Freida Peters, Eleonor Ahlbrand, Josephine Steinkamp, Eleonor Albersing, Anna Deppert, Martha Hoefkamp and Esther Harlow. These services are always very interesting and impressive and especially so to the young people who are members and their relatives and friends. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Eggers, and was largely attended. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and special music was rendered during the day.

SPECIFICATIONS

For New Electric Light Contract Now Completed.

The specifications and contract for city lighting, which have been prepared by consulting engineer, C. A. Tripp, of Indianapolis, and city attorney, Edward P. Elsner, are now completed and have been accepted by the council. Mr. Elsner made final examination of the plans and contracts Monday evening and after making several corrections, the papers were sent back to Mr. Tripp, who will return them corrected Wednesday morning.

The specifications are quite voluminous and consist of three items. The first is a form which will be used to give notice to bidders. The second item is the specifications of the nature of public lighting and gives the kinds of lights to be used, the voltage, where they are to be placed in the city and other details concerning the system which is to be installed. The third item is the contract form, which must be adopted by ordinance. In this form blanks are left for the insertion of the rate schedule, adopted by the council.

According to the specifications, the system to be used in lighting the city will be altogether different from the one now used. Mr. Tripp, who is an experienced electrician, declares that the system which is outlined in the specifications is the latest and most satisfactory that can be installed. The plans call for the newest type of lights which are recommended to give an illumination of the greatest candle power at a minimum cost.

The business district, according to the specifications, will be lighted with thirteen or more metallic flame arc lamps.

The bids also call for 149 or more 75-watts tungsten incandescent lamps and 176 or more 50-watts lamps of the same make.

It is the intention of the council to place a tungsten lamp at practically every corner in the city and on some blocks where the shade is heavy, several incandescent lamps of less candle power will be placed along the street. By thus distributing the light, the street can be better illuminated at about the same cost as when the arc lamps are placed at the intersections of the streets. The tungsten incandescent lamps will be placed in the middle of the streets, and will be much more satisfactory than if strung along the curbing where they are placed in many cities.

The specifications provide that the contract shall be in force for twenty years, but the rates may be readjusted after ten years. This was thought to be advisable as there are many changes each year in the lighting systems, and the rates now considered reasonable might be regarded as exorbitant at the end of a period of ten years. The provisions of the contract are to be fulfilled within eight months after the contract is granted.

Bids for furnishing light are to be received at the city clerk's office until noon April 21. These will be opened and considered by the council on the evening of the same day that no time will be lost.

How to Prevent Gray Hair.

When gray hairs first begin to appear, prompt action should be taken to nourish the scalp and prevent their further spread. Regular brushing, massage of the scalp and occasional shampooing help to prolong the vitality of the hair and preserve its natural color. But it is absolutely essential that these methods be assisted with some form of vital nourishment which the decaying roots of the hair can absorb. Numerous preparations for this purpose have appeared on the market during the past twenty years, but many of them have proved more harmful than otherwise. It is now agreed by competent authorities and those who have put it to the severest tests that HAY'S HAIR HEALTH is the safest and most effective preparation for restoring prematurely gray hair and furnishing the right food to the scalp. Its constantly increasing sale and the fact that it has held its great popularity for nearly a quarter of a century is proof that this scientific preparation does the work to the entire satisfaction of users. All reliable druggists recommend it and sell it in 50 cent and dollar bottles, or it can be secured from the manufacturer, Philo Hay Specialties Co., Newark, N. J., U. S. A. C. W. Milhous, A. J. Pellets.

INCREASE IN WAGES

May Soon Be Made by Southern Indiana Railroad.

It is rumored that the employees on the Southern Indiana railroad are to be granted an increase in wages in the near future. It is said that the employees made a demand several weeks ago for an increase wage scale, and that in a few instances a strike was threatened. It is believed that the company is now on a good financial basis and will be able to adjust the difficulties satisfactorily to all parties concerned.

It is not known just when the increase in wages for the trainmen here, will become effective, but it is thought that the schedule will be revised in a short time as a new scale has now been adopted for the machinists and boiler makers at Bedford.

Regarding the ten per cent increase which was adopted Monday, the Bedford Mail says:

The machinists and boilermakers employed at the Southern Indiana shops in this city have been granted a ten per cent increase in wages. The order for the increase, signed by T. A. Laws, came Saturday and was posted Monday.

The men will be allotted the new scale for all the time worked in this month the order making the raise effective from the first day of March.

The demand for the increase was made the latter part of February, and there was some little talk of a strike if the new scale was not adopted.

The heads of the various departments of the S. I., are very close to their men and can be depended upon to adjust matters where others would fail.

There has been no general increase in the wage scale on the S. I., in years, and it is now reported that a general request has been made and that the wages of other employees will soon be increased. The increase given to the machinists and boilermakers amounts to 3 cents per hour. The machinists formerly drew 31 cents while the latter received 32 cents. Now the machinists will receive 34 an hour while the boilermakers will draw 35 cents. Twenty machinists and nine boilermakers were affected by the increase.

Convention Reports.

On next Saturday conventions will be held in each precinct throughout the county for the purpose of electing delegates and alternates to the republican state convention which will be held in Indianapolis Tuesday, April 5. County Chairman, W. P. Masters, has sent word to each of the precinct committeemen to send the names of the delegates and alternates so chosen to the REPUBLICAN office not later than 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. It is important that these names be reported to Mr. Masters as soon as possible so that they may be sent to the state committee at Indianapolis Saturday evening. The conventions will be held at the places published in another column except in Redding township where the convention will meet at the Walnut Grove school house instead of at Rockford as was first announced.

District Deputy Busy.

S. G. Fitch, of Columbus, district deputy of the Modern Woodman lodge, attended the meeting of the lodge at Brownstown Monday evening and passed through this city Tuesday morning en route to North Vernon where a class of about ten new members is to be initiated tonight. Mr. Fitch will attend the meeting of the Seymour camp and desires to see a goodly number present to discuss matters for the good of the order.

Valuable Farms Sold.

J. Bruce Murphy was here from Washington this morning and sold his 90-acre farm just south of Honeytown to Cudwith Abel for $105 per acre. This is a high price for land, but it is only in line with what most of the good farms which have been sold in Hamilton township during recent years have brought.

Improving.

Mrs. George Meyers, who underwent an operation at the city hospital a few weeks ago, was able to sit up Monday for the first time. Her improvement has been constant and very satisfactory. She is now the only patient in the hospital.

Another Good Catch.

Francis Burke, Harry Heckman, Henry Nichter and Harry Hoover came in from White river Monday evening after catching about sixty-three pounds of nice fish, the largest weighing 3 1/2, 4 and 8 pounds.

THE COMPANY
CAPITULATESRapid Transit People Brought to Time.PENROSE FORCES SETTLEMENT

United States Senator From Pennsylvania Takes a Sunday Night Off and Tells the Philadelphia Streetcar Company Where to Head In—Told the Directors He Would Smash the Company and Scatter the Pieces Over the Streets if They Continued to Hold Out Any Longer.

Philadelphia, March 21.—United States Senator Penrose broke the streetcar strike Sunday night. One by one he called before him the reluctant directors of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company and forced them to accept the terms that were outlined a few days ago by powerful financial interests.

Kruger, president of the P. R. T., halted and protested. Clarence Wolf, the vice president, hailed from Atlantic City by a telegram from Penrose, argued unavailingly. Ballard, the chief counsel, tried to smooth the way for the president of the P. R. T. Nothing served to move the man who had become the boss of the situation.

Penrose brought his hand down on the big table in his office with a bang that shook the chandeliers. He said that he would break the company into smash and scatter the pieces over the streets if they continued to hold out another hour. He told them that he would use every ounce of power he had to smash the company if they continued to back and fill. He reminded them of the dubious financial position they were in. He threatened to get legislation that would force them to make terms less pleasant than had been submitted. He more than hinted at a receivership. He spoke as a man speaks who knows that councilmen dance when the right strings are pulled. He dared the directors to risk action by the common and select councils.

Kruger, Wolf and Ballard played for delay. They wanted the man who had been their friend through all the trouble, Mayor Reyburn, to get the credit for settling the strike. Senator Penrose waved away all such suggestions aside. There were two hours of pleading on one side and flat-footed dictation on the other.

The Rapid Transit officials caved in. They agreed to everything that Senator Penrose demanded, guaranteeing terms that give the carmen's union nine-tenths of everything they demanded. Even recognition of the Amalgamated Union through a grievance committee is included in the capitulation. First of all, the company agrees to take back all of the men on strike and to restore them to their old runs and their priority on the wage and promotion lists. The proviso is made that if the company is unable to restore all of the old men to their jobs it shall pay $2 a day to all that are kept waiting and that these shall receive their former jobs within two months. The status of the 173 motormen and conductors who were discharged for intoxication, knocking down fares and for the good of the service—the act which precipitated the strike—is to be left to a board of arbitration of three men, the company to name one; the union to name the second, and these are to select the third. In agreeing to this the company knuckles down to the principle of arbitration which it had uncompromisingly held out against up to the last hours of the fight.

The company must, according to the terms, deal with its employees through a grievance committee of nineteen men, one from each barn. In this the strikers lose sole recognition of their union. They are entitled to a delegate from every barn they control and they are in the majority. This grievance committee of nineteen is to select a sub-committee, which is to deal directly with the P. R. T. officials whenever difficulties arise. The strikers won a point in the matter of wages. By their old agreement they were to receive 23 cents an hour beginning June 1, 1910. They were getting 22 cents when they struck. By the agreement forced by Senator Penrose they go back to work at 23 cents an hour and they will be raised to 24 cents on June 1.

MISSION WORKERS PREPARING FEAST

Thousands Expected at Indianapolis Meeting.

Indianapolis, March 21.—On April 12 the national campaign of the Laymen's missionary movement sweeping through the large cities of the country will reach Indianapolis. This will be the sixty-seventh convention in the continent-wide and world-embracing movement. On the evening of April 12, a great men's dinner will be held in Tomlinson hall.

The local committee having charge of the arrangements, seized with the purposeful momentum of the movement, is preparing to banquet at least 2,000 men. Their expectation is based upon the widespread interest in this feature of the convention shown in other cities. In every instance the capacities of the largest dining halls of the cities entertaining the conventions have been taxed beyond their limit. In Syracuse, a city of only 140,000 people, so large a number assembled from the tributary towns that the capacity of the great gymnasium at the university was taxed beyond provision and 1,400 men sat down to the opening dinner.

At St. Louis, 1,828; at Dayton, 1,500. At Cincinnati the Business Men's club was crowded to the utmost and an overflow banquet arranged in the McAlpin department store. At the Hotel Astor, New York city, on the coldest and stormiest night in many years, 1,820 men participated in the missionary dinner. Kansas City, Mo., only last week broke the record with an actual attendance at the opening dinner of 1,840 men from the city and adjoining territory in Missouri and Kansas. Warned by these experiences, the Indianapolis committee is making generous provision for the greatest men's dinner of any kind ever held in the history of the city.

MABRAY GANG CONVICTED

Leader and Thirteen of His Associates Found Guilty.

Council Bluffs, Ia., March 21.—J. C. Mabray and thirteen of his associates in the famous big store gang of swindlers were found guilty of conspiracy to use the mail to defraud and will be sentenced to the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. There yet remain sixty-seven of the gang to be tried, and many of these will be placed on trial in Omaha in April.

The prisoners were accused of conducting a vast swindling game through the aid of fake prize fights, fake horse races, fake wrestling matches and other confidence games. Thirty-two of their victims testified to having lost $1,183,275 in the deals into which they were inveigled. During the trial, which lasted two weeks, one of the leaders testified that something over $5,000,000 had been secured on the schemes.

AT CANNON'S HOME

News of Speaker's Rout Received With Mixed Feelings.

Danville, Ill., March 21.—The passing of Cannon as "czar" of the house is a disappointment to his local managers and closest friends, who fear the result may injure his chances of reelection next fall by weakening the fealty of the Republicans of the Eighteenth district. It was correspondingly joyous news to the political enemies of Uncle Joe. A great effort has been made recently by the Cannon managers to offset the discontent in Republican ranks over the tariff and the high cost of living.

Local Democrats and disaffected Republicans affect to see the beginning of Cannon's end and declare that active opposition in this district to the speaker's re-election will follow.

MY DOCTOR MIGHTY FINE

Mrs. Hattie Cain of Carrsville. Thinks all the More of Her Doctor Since He Advised Her to Take Cardui.

Carrsville, Ky.—"My doctor," writes Mrs. Hattie Cain, "who advised me to take Cardui, for my troubles, is a mighty fine doctor, and I say God bless Cardui and the people who make it."

"Before I took Cardui, I suffered with female troubles for sixteen years. I would have to send for a doctor every three months, and oh! how dreadfully I suffered!"

"I would cramp and have convulsions and it looked like I would die. At last I took Cardui and oh! what a surprise! I found it was the medicine for me!"

"From the first bottle, I began to mend and now I am well, can do more work, can walk and go where I please and it don't hurt me, and I owe it all to Cardui."

Cardui helps sick women back to health. It has been doing this for over 50 years. It is not a laxative, or a heart or kidney medicine—it is a woman's medicine.

If you are a woman, try it.

NEW YORK DOES NOT CREDIT DEATH RUMOR

James Gordon Bennett Said to Be Safe at Candy.

Paris, March 21.—Rumors are current on the boulevards that James Gordon Bennett's yacht, the Lysistrata, has been wrecked in the Red Sea and that Mr. Bennett has been drowned.

New York, March 21.—At the office of the New York Herald the report of Mr. Bennett's death was discredited. It was said that a cable message signed by Mr. Bennett, dispatched from Candy, Ceylon, on Saturday, reported his arrival there.

MAY PATCH IT UP

Tariff War Between This Country and Canada Seems Less Likely.

Albany, N. Y., March 21.—The threatened tariff war between this country and the Dominion of Canada stepped one pace to the rear after President Taft, W. S. Fielding, minister of finance of the Dominion, and C. M. Pepper, commercial adviser of the department of state, had conferred together on Sunday in an attempt to find some solution of the problem which has vexed both nations. While no agreement was reached and while none was absolutely promised by the conferees, it was the general opinion that the meeting of the president and Mr. Fielding had been indicative of a solution. Negotiations, which were practically at end when Mr. Pepper returned to Washington from the Dominion some weeks ago, have been resumed and every effort will be made by the president, the state department and, it was said, officials of the Canadian government to avert the battle over the tariff schedules.

The president left Albany last night.

ROOSEVELT'S PROGRESS

The Colonel's Party Seeing the Sights Along the Nile.

Assuan, Upper Egypt, March 21.—The steamer on which Colonel Roosevelt and the members of his party are traveling reached Shaltal early Sunday morning. There was quite a number of American tourists gathered to meet them.

There was another river trip after lunch, which gave the party an opportunity to visit some of the rock tombs which are numerous hereabouts. The heat was extreme, but Colonel Roosevelt did not seem to suffer. The launch returned to Shaltal after the tombs were inspected, and there the party slept last night, starting for Luxor this morning.

It is the present intention of Colonel Roosevelt to sail from Southampton for New York on the steamer Kaiserin Augusta in June.

OPERATORS RELAXING

Miners Think Concessions Will Be Granted Them This Week.

Cincinnati, March 21.—President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America, who is here attending the conference between operators and miners of Ohio, Indiana and western Pennsylvania and presiding at the daily conventions of the union miners, has issued a statement to the effect that he thought by Wednesday of this week the operators would concede an advance in wages to the miners, thus settling the long-drawn-out conference. He says it is well known that the big operators are greatly averse to continuing longer a stand that threatens to cause a general strike of union miners.

INSURGENTS DO NOT PUSH POINT

Will Not Fight for Place On Rules Committee.

SATISFIED WITH THE RESULT

Moderation of the Republican Insurgents After Notable Victory Over the Cannon Organization Is Working Strongly For a Better Understanding Among the Republican Forces in Washington.—Both Political Parties Claim Victory as Result of Strenuous Fight in House.

SEEN FROM OPPOSING ANGLES.

Majority Leader Payne: "The Democrats again have demonstrated their incapacity to take advantage of a situation. They have weakened the issue of 'Cannonism,' if they have not destroyed it altogether. The house is left with a coherent Republican majority, which will enable us to pass the legislation that President Taft has been urging upon congress."

Minority Leader Champ Clark: "The great victory of the Democrats, aided by the insurgent Republicans, in changing the number of the committee on rules and in changing the mode of selection, and, above all, by excluding the speaker from the membership thereof, is a victory in the cause of good government."

Washington, March 21.—Late Saturday afternoon, within the space of one tumultuous hour, Cannonism went to smash in the national house of representatives and out of his defeat "Uncle Joe" Cannon rose personally triumphant.

Following his utter rout by the insurgents and Democrats, who voted overwhelmingly to throw him off the rules committee, which committee, by the same vote, was enlarged to ten members to be elected by the house, the speaker offered to vacate the chair to any successor the house might elect. Amid tremendous excitement the house refused by a vote of 191 to 155 to declare the chair vacant.

All the afternoon the battle waged, but at every stage of it the speaker stood whipped to a finish on the proposition of breaking down his dictatorship. He saw himself borne down to defeat by a combination of forty-three Republican insurgents and 146 Democrats.

Then, at the moment of his defeat, he craved the indulgence of the house while he read from the rostrum a solemnly worded and solemnly uttered defense of himself. He contended that he had done no political wrong and he refused to resign on account of the harm such an act might do to the Republican party, but he offered to entertain a motion to vacate the chair and elect a successor. Mr. Burleson of Texas, a Democrat, offered this motion, and the roll was called with the result of producing a vote of personal confidence in the speaker.

Only nine insurgents voted to oust the speaker from his office. They were: Cary (Wis.), Lenroot (Wis.), Nelson (Wis.), Cooper (Wis.), Lindbergh (Minn.), Poindexter (Wash.), Davis (Minn.), Murdock (Kan.), Grona (N. D.). Otherwise all the Republicans voted to keep Uncle Joe in office, while the Democrats voted solidly against it.

Those Modest Insurgents.

The insurgents as a body are not inclined to fight for representation on the reorganized house committee on rules. There is a general understanding among them that they will enter the Republican caucus to be held within a few days, as individuals and not as members of the insurgent band.

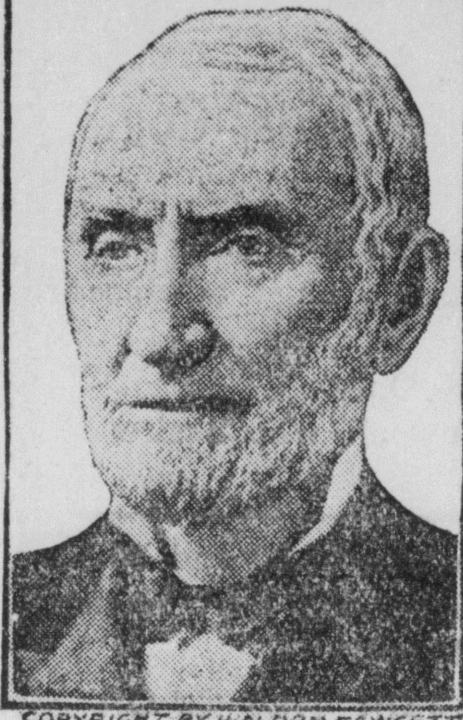

This moderation of the insurgents after their notable victory over the Cannon organization is working strongly for a better understanding among the Republican forces in Washington. The leaders themselves, with the possible exception of Speaker Cannon, are inclined to be conciliatory, and they are saying that no attempt will be made to nominate a committee objectionable to the ranks of both.

The regulars have already received assurance from many of the insurgents that Daltzell of Pennsylvania and Smith of Iowa, who served with Speaker Cannon on the old committee, will be acceptable to them on the new. The regulars have made no attempt as yet to get together on the remaining four members to be nominated by the Republican caucus, but it is pretty generally admitted that Representative McCall of Massachusetts will be one of them. The Pacific coast states will get one representative, and the choice seems to lie now among Ellis and Hawley of Oregon and Kahn of California. For the remaining two places the names of Stevens of Minnesota and Denby or Townsend of Michigan are being mentioned more frequently than any others.

There is method in the decision of the insurgents not to force a fight on the personnel question. They want their struggle in the house to go before the country as one that has been waged entirely on principle and they fear any attempt to carry the struggle on in regard to the personnel of the committee would afford ground for charges that their efforts had been inspired by motives of personal ambition. Even Victor Murdock, the red-headed radical from Kansas, is willing to concede that the insurgents will make no attempt to demand representation on the new committee.

Though Still Speaker, Uncle Joe Is No Longer "Czar."

COPYRIGHT BY WALDON FAWCETT

The Democrats have just about agreed on the minority representation of four for the new committee. It is predicted that the caucus will name Champ Clark of Missouri, the minority leader; Fitzgerald of New York, Underwood of Alabama and Hammond of Minnesota.

With the Cannon regulars still in control of the enlarged rules committee there may be a disposition on the part of many to ask just what the insurgents will have accomplished from all this hullabaloo. The insurgents themselves will tell you that they have established a principle, that they will have been put in control of legislation in the house, by a committee selected by the 391 members of the house and not by a single individual. By their demonstration they have shown also that they can administer a rebuke to the party organization when they see fit, and they believe now that a real effort will be made to make the rules committee of ten a representative organization.

The Republican organization men are unanimous in their assertions that the row in the house and the defeat of the speaker has done much to clear the atmosphere for the Republican congressional campaign. They contend that with the enlargement of the rules committee, the elimination of Uncle Joe and the subsequent vote of confidence in the speaker has removed absolutely the so-called issue of Cannonism in the next campaign: The Democratic congressional campaign managers are just as certain, however, that the battle cry of Cannonism will live through the fall campaign in spite of the dethronement of the speaker from the rules committee.

CROSS EXAMINATION TOO MUCH FOR HIM

Witness In Marker Case Put On the Grill.

Indianapolis, March 21.—On cross-examination, subjected to a grilling fire of questions, William White, secretary of the Farmers' and Citizens' Live Stock Insurance company of Lima, O., now in the hands of a receiver, was forced to admit while on the stand in the Marker trial in federal court that he committed perjury in making false reports to the Ohio insurance department relative to the condition of the insurance company. Marker held stock in the insurance company.

White was forced to admit even that he knew that the reports were false when he made them, and that he did the work with the avowed intention of deceiving the officials of the insurance department. White was a witness for the prosecution against William H. Marker, who is accused of violating the national banking laws as cashier of the First National bank of Tipton.

White stated under examination that Marker had said that if he, Marker, were convicted he would see that White also was convicted. White declared that he "made out" notes at the request of Marker in connection with transactions in which he and Marker were involved.

Suicide of Insane Man.

Anderson, Ind., March 21.—William R. ("Dude") Rogers, aged forty-seven years, an insane patient, hanged himself with a necktie to a bar of his cell in the county jail. He was for many years the highest paid workman in Anderson in his capacity of roller in the hot mills and often earned as much as $50 a day. His wife obtained a divorce a few years ago and Rogers, while working in the tin mill at Elwood, two weeks ago became suddenly insane and was in jail here to await admission to the insane hospital.

The president has signed the proclamation extending the minimum rates of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law to France.

We want that many regular subscribers to our paper. In 1909 we had a daily circulation of 90,246, therefore, we need only 9,754 new readers to reach the mark.

THE INDIANAPOLIS NEWS

The circulation of The Indianapolis News is unique in two particulars. The paper is delivered directly into the homes of more than 94 per cent. of its subscribers; and the circulation, per capita of the population of the city in which it is printed is greater than that of any other paper in the country.

The Indianapolis News, established in 1869, was the first high class two-cent evening paper in the west. It now publishes six regular editions, of from sixteen to twenty-eight pages daily; has the Associated press and United Press services; 700 special correspondents, covering the news of the state and country; a modern art equipment, and a large and capable editorial staff. Its mechanical equipment, complete in every way, includes twenty-two linotype machines, two sextuples and two double-deck quintuple color presses, with a total output of 120,000 twelve page papers per hour.

THERE'S A REASON!

In twelve years The News doubled its circulation; there must be a reason for it, and that reason is given in a few words:

It's the leading newspaper in Indiana.
It's the biggest and best.
It's independent.
It's clean and instructive.

THE POLITICAL FIELD

Observations From the Viewpoint of
Our Indianapolis Correspondent.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, March 22.—Announcement that Senator Shively is to be permanent chairman of the Democratic state convention, and that Governor Marshall probably will be temporary chairman of that meeting, arouses unusual interest among Republicans and Democrats alike, at this time, because of the factional strife in which Senator Shively and Governor Marshall are so sharply opposed. The Marshall scheme for endorsing a Democratic senatorial candidate in the state convention, by vote of the delegates, has found a sturdy opponent in Senator Shively, the last of the caucus-chosen line. Senator Shively's friends look at Governor Marshall's outcry for a convention selection of the Democratic senatorial nominee of 1911, as nothing more nor less than an insult put on Senator Shively, and an aspersion cast upon the method by which the present junior senator was chosen in 1909. The fact that there were serious charges of bribery and trickery connected with that same Shively election, give the Shively people double cause for resentment when the Democratic governor adds his own criticism to that made by John W. Kern and John E. Lamb, who were victims of the secret ballot game which was worked in Senator Shively's behalf.

Republicans are wondering what will be the outcome of a convention which has Governor Marshall for its temporary chairman, and his arch enemy, Senator Shively, for its permanent chairman. They are wondering what will be the product of a Democratic state convention in which one large element demands that the delegates nominate a United States senator, in accordance with the Democratic party slogan of senators by popular vote, while the whole organization, the Democratic legislators, the national committeeman and the senator, with several aspirants, are bitterly opposed against the scheme for popular voice in the senatorship. Will Temporary Chairman Marshall advocate selection of the senator by convention vote? Will Permanent Chairman Shively oppose such a selection? Will Thomas Taggart, who now opposes the idea, grant his august permission that the issue may be placed before the delegates to be disposed of by them? Or will Mr. Taggart smother the thing in his resolutions committee, and rule it out of order through his permanent chairman and gag rule? All these are interesting matters for speculation.

There is no uncertainty about the Republican state convention and its chairman, any more than there is about the Republican party in Indiana and its candidate for United States senator. The Indiana voter knows when he votes for a Republican candidate for the legislature, that the Republican, if elected, will vote to return Senator Beveridge to Washington, to continue his career of usefulness and honest service. On the other hand, as some sensible Democrats are pointing out, the Democrats must either act on the senatorship in their state convention and settle their choice there, or they must face the constant inquiry of their candidate for the senatorship. It is not enough to say that the prospective Democratic senatorial candidate will be a Democrat. Something more is demanded. Governor Marshall and his followers desire that the Democratic party shall be frank in saying who its senatorial choice is to be. Senator Shively and Thomas Taggart and their crowd are violently against any such frankness. State Chairman Stokes Jackson declares in awed and pained tones that the whole business means an awful split in the Democratic party in Indiana.

It is stated on good authority that Senator Beveridge will be the chairman of the Republican state convention. State Chairman Lee will call the convention to order April 5, and Senator Beveridge will act as chairman during the one-day convention, sounding the keynote, stating the issues and expounding party principles. The demand that Senator Beveridge act as chairman has been general and insistent. No other man has been suggested for the place. Senator Beveridge is endowed as an orator and as a presiding officer to a remarkable degree. It is expected that he will make an ideal chairman. There will be no split in the Republican convention on the matter of the United States senatorship. That important question settled itself long ago.

M. C. Garber of the Madison Courier, a conservative and sober-minded leader in party councils, has suggested a plank for the Republican state platform, which in his opinion would about hit off the party's stand on the issue of public morals, otherwise known as local option. Mr. Garber would refer with party pride to the record made in the past on questions urged by public demand and progressive morality, and declare that the party takes no backward step, but stands ever ready to heed the call of the majority for legislation along proper lines. It is said Superintendent E. S. Shumaker of the Anti-Saloon League may demand something radical on the temperance question, but Mr. Shumaker is not expected to be so strong as to dictate the wording of party resolutions this year.

Brain Spring.

Two Frenchmen stood admiring a pastoral scene from the brush of a young American. It chanced that the artist was in the gallery.

"And how did monsieur ever create such a wonderful painting?" asked one in broken English.

"Ah," said the artist, with a far-away look, "that picture was the offspring of my brain."

The other Frenchman was interested.

"What did he say, Henri?"

"I can hardly explain," whispered the other excitedly; "he said ze picture was one spring off his brain. Ees eet any wonder zat ze Americans act queerly when they have springs on their brains?"—Chicago News.

Rank Injustice.

Supers are very particular about the distribution of parts. In a fairy piece in Paris a set of dominoes was represented by men wearing on their backs boards marked with the different numbers. A discontented super gave in his resignation and told the management they must find a substitute. "Why, what's the matter?" asked the astonished director. "Don't you get your 15 sous a night like the others?" "It isn't about the sous at all. I am one of the oldest artists belonging to the theater, and they ought to have made me the double six. Instead of that I am the lowest number—the double blank. Rather than submit to such injustice I prefer to leave the theater."

$3.00 shoes $2.25 at the Fair.

Weather Indications.

Fair tonight, cooler in north portion. Wednesday fair and warmer.

The Old Saltcellar.

During the latter part of the middle ages the saltcellar was the most conspicuous object on the table. It was always placed in the center of the long table at which the household gathered, my lord and lady, family and guests being at one end and the servants and retainers at the other, and in this way one's social position was at once apparent, the "gentle folk" sitting "above the salt" and the yeomanry below it. Among the wealthy the saltcellar was of gold or silver. Benvenuto Cellini chased some for Francis I. that were of the most exquisite workmanship, and at the Louvre may be seen several rich specimens of saltcellars in filigree and the famous set made at Orion for Henry I.

Newton Spurling returned to Brownstown this morning on account of the Mutton Creek ditch case, which is on trial there in the Circuit court.

SAYLER TRIAL IN PROGRESS

Dr. Miller May Have to Fight
Battle Alone.

DEFENSE PREPARING MOTION

Court Will Be Asked to Quash Indictments Against Mrs. Sayler and John Grunden on the Ground of Insufficient Evidence—This Would Leave Dr. Miller to Fight the Case Alone—Slain Banker's Daughter Makes a Pathetic Appeal to the People of Illinois on Behalf of Mother.

Watseka, Ill., March 22.—The tedious efforts of the state and defense to fill the four vacant seats in the jury box were continued when the trial of Mrs. Lucy Sayler, Dr. William R. Miller and John Grunden, charged with the murder of Banker J. B. Sayler, husband of Mrs. Sayler, was resumed here. Thirty veniremen appeared in court in response to the summons of Judge Dibell.

It is expected the defense may file a motion to quash the indictments against Mrs. Sayler and John Grunden on the grounds that there is not sufficient evidence to prove anything against them. Such a motion, if granted, would leave Dr. Miller to fight the battle alone.

Golda Sayler, daughter of the slain banker, has issued an appeal to the people of Illinois, in which she said, in part: "Everything tells me that poor little mother is innocent. I lie awake at night with my hands clenched until the nails cut deep, trying not to scream, for at night when the lights are out I realize that I am alone in the world. I have no one to turn to. My father is dead, and I may not be with my mother. May you never know such loneliness. I feel that I may without offense ask sympathy of those who love their fathers and mothers."

President Taft Again Takes Occasion to Praise Aldrich.

Providence, R. I., March 22.—With Senators Aldrich on his left and Wetmore on his right, President Taft sat last night as the guest of the New England Manufacturing Jewelers' and Silversmiths' association. The president, the two senators, Governor Pothier of Rhode Island and Mayor Fletcher were the principal speakers. The president in his introductory remarks praised Senator Aldrich, to the delight of the diners. "I'm honored," he said, "by the presence of your distinguished senators, whose services in assisting me to carry out the pledges of the administration and party I value most highly."

On seven counts the president tried the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, "which," he said, "was the subject of considerable discussion," and found it the best law of its kind ever put on the statute books.

A SLIPPERY CUSTOMER

Bob Green, Banker-Horsethief, Again Eludes Prison Bars.

Columbus, O., March 22.—Robert Green, former banker of Waynesburg, Ind., who is charged with being a horsethief, and George Wolfe, a youth held on the same charge, escaped from the county prison at Elyria, O. Green attacked Turnkey VanDusen, fracturing his skull with an iron bar. Green was sentenced to thirteen years in the Michigan City prison for horse stealing, but he escaped and was later arrested in Cleveland, charged with having stolen a horse in Oberlin. A posse is after the men.

WANT TO STOP IT

French Lick Citizens Organize Against Open Gambling.

Indianapolis, March 22.—Attorney General Bingham has been notified by citizens of French Lick that gambling has been resumed at J. Brown's hotel just opposite the hostility of Tom Taggart, and that all the games carried on at the Casino are in progress and liberally patronized by visitors at the resort.

Citizens have organized to put a stop to gambling and the attorney general was in conference with them over the long-distance telephone.

Charged With Killing Sister.

Massillon, O., March 22.—Catherine Manz, who is accused of having killed her sister, Elizabeth Manz, last Friday, and who was brought here and placed in jail, is said to have brooded over the fact that she had no such fine clothes as her sister had. The arrested girl denies emphatically that she knows anything about Elizabeth's death. The police say the girl broke down on the trip and confessed helping to poison her sister.

Serious Charge Against Miner.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 22.—Joe Lerche, aged fifty, a coal miner, was taken to Springfield, Ill., by the sheriff from that place to plead to a charge of assaulting a seven-year-old girl.

THRIFTY AMERICANS ARE A SAVING FOLK

They Lead the World in Matter of Savings.

New York, March 22.—Figures compiled from reports of the comptroller of the currency show that the average deposit in American savings banks is almost four times as great as the average for Europe, Asia, Africa, Oceania, Canada, etc., and that the average deposit per capita is almost six times greater in the United States than the other parts of the world mentioned. The total savings deposits in the world are $15,389,672,014, and of this $5,678,735,379 belongs to Americans. Of the total of more than $15,000,000,000 for the world, more than $13,000,000,000 is deposited with private savings banks, while less than $2,000,000,000 has been placed with the postal savings banks of foreign countries.

One American in every six of the total population has money in a savings bank, and the average deposit is $381.28. In the rest of the world the depositors number one to every eight of population, and the average sum to their credit is $101.66. The figures for foreign countries show the average deposits in private savings banks of $140 and in the postal banks $49.33.

MABRAY SENTENCED

He and His Associates Must Go to Prison For Two Years.

Council Bluffs, Ia., March 22.—John C. Mabray and nine other members of the "Millionaire's club," convicted of fraudulent use of the mails in connection with fake racing schemes, have been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and $10,000 fine each.

Aside from Mabray, those given the full penalty were Edward Loser, Edward K. Morris, Tom Robinson, Edward Leach, Clarence Forbes, Harry Forbes, Edward McCoy, Clarence Class and Willard Powell.

Winford S. Harris, who also pleaded guilty, and Frank Scott, were sentenced to six months in jail and fined $100 each. Prosecutions are pending against other members of the "club."

Fatal Duel Between Women.

Knoxville, Tenn., March 22.—The story has been received here of a duel between two young women, Rosa Cowan and Nellie Taylor, fought at Kingston. Jealousy over a man caused the fight. Both women had their throats cut, the Cowan woman dying instantly and the Taylor woman being expected to die at any time.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

NOW SPEAK AS THEY PASS BY

Insurgents and Regulars Patching Things Up.

ONLY HOT HEADS ARE BITTER

There Are a Few Among the Regulars Who Still Have It in For the Insurgents Who Voted to Depose Cannon, but Conservatives Are Counseling Moderation—Caucus of Democrats Tonight For Purpose of Selecting Minority Members of New Rules Committee Promises to Be Interesting.

Washington, March 22.—To the discord and confusion of the closing days of last week peace and order have succeeded in the house, and for the first time in two years the leaders of the Republican factions speak as they pass by.

Insurgents and regulars got together in conference, each side expressing a desire for harmony and urging the speedy passage of legislation that will help out the G. O. P. in the coming elections. A few of the hotheads among the regulars, however, are still very bitter toward the nine insurgent Republicans who voted to depose Speaker Cannon on Saturday and maintain that they should be denied admission to the party caucus to be held this week to nominate the majority members of the new committee on rules, but conservatives are counseling moderation.

"No Republican who wants to attend will be debarred from the caucus to be called this week," said Representative Currier, chairman of the caucus. "We want all Republicans to come into line for the good of the party."

Insurgent leaders reiterated that they will not insist upon representation on the committee on rules. All they demand is that a committee of fair men be named. The regulars have accordingly given assurances that the new committee will not be obnoxious to the men who so successfully attacked the house organization last week. The Democrats will meet in caucus tonight to select the minority members of the committee on rules. The Republican caucus will be held later in the week.

The Democratic gathering promises to be merry. Minority Leader Clark of Missouri and Representative Fitzgerald, who are members of the present committee on rules, will be selected for the new, but a lively scrap is in prospect over the filling of the other two minority places. Representatives Underwood of Alabama and Slayden of Texas are candidates for one of the places, while Representatives Shirley of Kentucky and Hammond of Minnesota aspire to the others.

LOST PUBLIC SYMPATHY

Philadelphia Carmen Repudiate the Agreement For Peace.

Philadelphia, March 22.—The striking carmen have repudiated the agreement made between the Rapid Transit company and their own international president, W. D. Mahon. After Senator Penrose had forced the transit company to grant 50 per cent more than the strikers had ever demanded; after Mahon in the name of the strikers had eagerly accepted the terms and had shaken hands on the bargain with the senator, Vice President Wolf of the company and others in the conference, after the announcement by the senator and Mr. Mahon that the strike was over, the carmen's union, picked on by Pratt, humiliated their principal official and deliberately offended the man, Penrose, who had obtained for them far more than they had asked.

Penrose, angered, has returned to Washington. Mahon, insulted by his own followers, is on the point of withdrawing the support of the International Carmen's union, and the sympathetic strike is melting like snow under a spring sun. Thousands of union men who had been out in sympathy with the carmen, have gone back to their jobs, disgusted with the outcome.

MAY STAVE IT OFF

Another Proposition Looking to Settlement of Firemen's Troubles.

Chicago, March 22.—A ray of hope for settlement on an amicable basis illumines the strike situation which involves the wage controversy between locomotive firemen and managers of the western railroads. A new line of argument to be considered by the roads' employees as a means of adjusting their differences with the railroad officials was advanced at a meeting held with Labor Commissioner C. P. Neill. Upon the willingness of the union representatives to accept this suggestion may rest whether the 23,000 firemen will be called out on strike at an early date.

Fatally Cut With Razor.

Linton, Ind., March 22.—A. B. Cross was fatally cut with a razor, and George W. Greene was seriously wounded in a free-for-all fight at Cross's home. William Ashcraft and Charles Bruner were arrested and are held pending a further investigation of the affray.

PITTSBURG GOING TO CLEAN UP A BIT

Grafting Council men Coming to Confession.

Pittsburg, March 22.—The belief today is that Pittsburg is and has been the worst city politically in the country. The first day of a general roundup of the grafters and bribers of Pittsburg was a gruesome success.

Obeysing the call of the district attorney, issued to all grafting councilmen and bribe-givers, to come forward and make full confession in open court on pain of their being railroaded to prison on information given through the confession of Councilman John Klein, there came ten men to the bar of justice. Terror-stricken, these ten councilmen and ex-councilmen groveled their way before Judge Frazer and Judge Cohen and confessed that they had at some time in the past sold their votes in city councils for money. Forty other councilmen and business men of Pittsburg are expected to come to confession later.

"If there are not more come than came today, I will not hesitate, but will pull out all props and let the sky fall on Pittsburg," said Mr. Blakely.

Among those who came and confessed and have been allowed to go with the promise that they sin no more are: Dr. W. H. Weber, select council, confessed having accepted $10,000 and disbursed it among other councilmen, sentence suspended; Thomas McGrath, member common councils, confessed having received $150 bribe from Councilman Klein, ordered by court to hand in his resignation at once, which was done; sentence was then suspended. The others are former members of councils who confessed to accepting small bribes.

The grand jury has handed down indictments in the cases of forty-one persons whose names had come before it in connection with the graft cases, and warrants will be issued for them at once. All these indictments are in connection with the bribing of Pittsburg councilmen by the late Dallas G. Byers, a steel king of Pittsburg, in connection with the vacation of a street. There is a rumor that one of the surprises which District Attorney Blakely will spring is the fact that D. G. Byers, the Pittsburg steel man indicted, and who was supposed to have died abroad some months ago, is not dead and that another body was shipped from Switzerland and buried here as Byers.

The mine owners in West Virginia will shortly raise the wages of their non-union workers.

EASTER DECORATIONS

A Stunning Luncheon Table In Green and Violet.

WHITE BREAKFAST MOTIF.

An Easter Dinner Menu, Including Dainty Viands That Carry Out the Color Scheme In Every Course—Meal Not Difficult to Prepare.

Violets and lilies of the valley would constitute an exceptionally happy combination for an Easter table decoration, as was demonstrated by a hostess last year, says Table Talk.

The occasion was an Easter Monday luncheon. In the center of the table on a handsome art square of Mexican drawn work was a jardiniere of green pottery. In this stood a tall green jar of the same material. In the jar was a large bunch of lilies of the valley and their foliage loosely arranged. The space between the jar and the outer rim of the jardiniere was filled with bouquets of violets such as one sees in florists' windows. A violet ribbon was attached to each bouquet and led to a guest's plate, where it ended in a few sprays of the lilies. The base of the jardiniere was wreathed with asparagus fern, which trailed gracefully out over the cloth.

White tulips were most satisfactorily employed for the floral decorative motif at a white breakfast given Easter week.

The table was covered with a breakfast cloth of satin damask. In the center was a round, shallow box of moist sand on a mat of fern fronds. In this white tulips were arranged to simulate a bed of the blossoms. The sides and edge of the box were completely hidden by the mass of green forming the mat. The favors were tiny white tulip flowerpots of papier mache.

Dumas and "Monte Cristo."
Alexandre Dumas, the great French novelist, never set foot on the island of Monte Cristo. When visiting Elba in 1842 the novelist sailed across to Monte Cristo in the hope of shooting some wild goats. On the point of landing, however, he learned from one of the sailors that, as the island was uninhabited, no boat was allowed to touch there under penalty of six days' quarantine at the next port of call. It was therefore decided not to disembark, but Dumas insisted on rowing all round the island, because, he told his companion, Prince Napoleon, "I intend in memory of this trip with you to give the name of Monte Cristo to some book which I shall write later."

Tuscola, Ill., March 19.—Mrs. Daisy Curtwright, who came to the Beach hotel here a week ago from St. Mary, Ill., with her three-year-old daughter, is dead from a gunshot wound, and her husband is being held in connection with the crime. Mr. and Mrs. Curtwright had been estranged for some time and the husband followed his wife here a short time before the fatal shot was fired. The little girl, who witnessed the shooting, maintains that her mother shot herself.

A Fashion Chat on Frocks for Little Miss.

Furnished by Pictorial Review
853 Broadway, New York City.

To exercise judgment and good taste in dressing little children is of far more value than expensive material and elaborate ornamentation. Simple clothes are much more attractive for them, as the child's natural grace is best left unhampered.

On the woolen dresses folds or piping of plaid are always pretty and suitable for children. Buttonholed scallops is another pretty form of trimming, and this may finish the wide collars, a front panel, neck and sleeves.

Simple little tucked dresses of cashmere, light weight serge, plaid wool materials and all fabrics of the sort are exceedingly becoming to the little girl and the neatest for school wear. As soon as the warm weather comes on, however, washable materials in pretty colors are substituted for the heavier fabrics.

The Moyanage style is very pretty, stylish and well-liked. It can be treated in so many novel and attractive ways that the mother can easily use one pattern for several frocks. The simpler the frock, the better it is, especially for everyday wear.

Plaid materials are being very much worn by little girls this season and one dress seen in the shops was just as charming as it could be. It was made similar to PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 2980 shown on this page and its edges were piped with velvet which is always handsome on plaid. Serge is very popular also and with a collar of embroidered white batiste would be decidedly attractive for school wear.

The young school girl should have two or three dark woolen dresses, dark blue, brown, green or plaid. This number should be sufficient to last the whole season. They must, however, be kept clean and well pressed. Accessories such as collars, cuffs, belts and ties in matching colors are very effective.

Dresses that close at the side are the latest feature in children's dresses as well as in those of grown-ups. PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 3044 is essentially novel and extremely attractive. The dress is to be worn over a guimpe. It comes in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. A medium size requires 3 yards of 36-inch material.

Simple, yet dressy enough in style to be effective for an afternoon affair is PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 3035. It has a panel front, sleeve caps and an attached straight gathered skirt. It comes in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. The quantity of material required for the medium size is 4 1/2 yards of 24-inch material.

The girls' dress pictured in PICTORIAL REVIEW MODEL No. 2980 is in excellent taste and the style is so pretty that it can be worn not only to school but to parties, etc. It all depends, of course, on the material of which it is made. In woolen materials or lighter weight fabrics for the warmer weather it will do for school. In challis, dainty silks and softer materials it is just the thing for a party dress.

It has a panel front and attached circular skirt with inverted plait at the center back and is to be worn over a guimpe. It comes in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 3 1/2 yards of 30-inch material, with 1/2 yard of 27-inch contrasting material.

The patterns of these dresses, including cutting and construction guides are 15 cents each number.

ARRAY OF ORATORS

The Ownership and Lordship of Christ, George Sherwood Eddy.

Adoption of Policy.

Every Christian's World Field, Bishop W. F. McDowell, Chicago.

All of the Protestant churches that are spreading their missionary work to the dark corners of the earth will be represented by speakers on the program. Conspicuous among them will be J. Campbell White, for years secretary of the foreign mission board of the United Presbyterian church, and now general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

Another speaker is Dr. Marion D. Eubank, a medical missionary of the American Baptist Union in China. He went to China in 1899 and took charge of the mission station at Huchow, and was very active in the relief work of the boxer uprising. He is particularly skillful in presenting the subject of foreign missions to business men.

Still another speaker who will be heard is William B. Anderson. He was born in Monmouth, Ill., in 1868. His classical education was received at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., from which institution he graduated in 1894. He took the course in theology in Allegheny Theological Seminary, graduating in 1897. He became a student volunteer in his freshman year in college. In 1897, on graduation from the seminary, he was married, and went to India under appointment of the United Presbyterian board. The first six years of his first term of service were spent in educational work, and the remaining year in evangelistic work. After spending nearly one year on furlough, he returned to evangelistic work in the field in 1906. In November, 1908, he returned from the field to fill the position of associate secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Presbyterian church for two years. He is expecting to return to India in the fall of 1910.

S. Earl Taylor, general secretary of the laymen's missionary movement of the Methodist Episcopal Church, brings to this new work an exceptionally rich experience in connection with the missionary activities of the church. He is the son of a Methodist preacher; a graduate of Upper Iowa University; for a number of years he was engaged in Young Men's Christian Association work as physical director and general secretary, and later as traveling secretary of the international committee.

He has been more or less directly connected with the missionary society since 1898, at which time, as the leader of the Student Missionary campaign, he became widely known as a pioneer in missionary educational work among young people. The work he conducted during this period was so successful that in 1900 the general missionary committee created the young people's department of the Missionary Society. Mr. Taylor was elected as the first secretary for young people's work, which position he has held until the present time.

Aside from the young people's work, however, he has rendered notable service to the church in other directions. From 1902 to 1904, as the executive secretary of the Open Door Emergency Commission, he helped to stimulate the missionary awakening which at that period saved the Missionary Society from disastrous retrenchment and registered gratifying increases in the missionary offerings.

He has been at the forefront in the organization and development of the Interdenominational Young People's Missionary Movement and on at least four occasions has been called to assist in the development of young people's work in Great Britain and other countries. In 1896 he made a trip around the world, accompanying Dr. Goucher for a portion of the journey, and had special opportunity for studying missions in connection with the Southern Asia jubilee exercises in India, the Morrison centennial in China and the biennial conference of the World's Student Christian Federation, held in Japan. Recently on another trip he has had an opportunity for studying at first hand the missionary problem in the near East. He is a man of unusual organizing and executive ability.

When Christ said: "Preach the Gospel to every creature," he meant his people in every age to do it. "The evangelization of the world in this generation" is then the task of the living church.

Of the fifteen hundred millions of the world's peoples, one thousand millions are in non-Christian areas. Protestant Christendom supports amongst these a staff of 13,000 missionaries, men and single women. With a field of 25,000 to each this force is reaching 325,000,000 and can probably evangelize them during this generation. Six hundred and seventy-five millions are not yet provided for, or 27,000 districts of 25,000 people each. To give only one missionary to each such field would mean the increase of the present number of 40,000, or the sending out of 27,000 more missionaries.

The cost of sustaining the present mission agency is $22,846,000. The sum needed to support an adequate missionary army of conquest is $80,000,000 a year.

The share of the United States and Canada is at least 600,000,000 of the unevangelized peoples. The cost of giving these the Gospel will be 24,000 missionaries, where we now have 4,500 and of spending $50,000,000 where we now spend $10,000,000 a year.

There are 20,000,000 of Protestant church members in North America. Reduced to the lowest unit of measurement, the demand of the unevangelized world would take one out of every 800 church members for foreign mission service. Surely the other 799 could support that one and his work. The cost would be 5 cents a week for each church member. Systematic proportionate and regular weekly giving is the only solution of the financial problem. To know the facts of missions, to grow daily in a knowledge of their vast significance, to glow with generous emotion kindled by that knowledge, and to substitute that emotion by action; in short, to place oneself at the disposal of this great crusade to go and meet this world need is the only process that will solve the problem of manning the fields. Know, grow, glow and go are the key-words of the enterprise. "Let us advance upon our knees." "The world for Christ in this generation." "We can do it, and we will." This is the gist of the whole matter.

Campaign of Education.

At a recent largely attended meeting of laymen at Indianapolis, Executive Secretary Laflamme, of the general committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, pointed out that the first work before the church committees is to promote a campaign of education among the laymen on the scope and purpose of the movement. It is not to take the place of any church activities now in motion, the executive secretary said, and the movement is not to bring about a new organization, like a church brotherhood. The chief purpose is to give laymen light on the importance of taking up the cause of foreign missions. The laymen were asked to have their pastors preach sermons on the missionary movement, and to have them exchange pulpits with other ministers, that the congregations may get different views on the subject.

Confession of a Millionaire

Admits Making Millions by Robbing the People.

IS REFORMING HIMSELF NOW.

Joseph Fels of Philadelphia Will Devote His "Swag" to Do Away With "Cursed System" That Made Him Wealthy—Only Way to Get Rich, He Says, Is Through Monopoly.

The spectacle of a millionaire telling his hearers that he made his millions by robbing the people, that all monopolies do, but that he had begun to recover his conscience and was going to devote his wealth to fighting the system which made it possible, was the unique entertainment provided by the City club of Chicago at its luncheon the other day. The speaker was Joseph Fels of Philadelphia, head of a soap company. He said he was a disciple of Henry George and would always remain a Single Taxer.

"You Are All Doing It."

"We can't get rich in a lifetime nowadays," Mr. Fels said, "under the present system of things unless we do so by robbing the people. I have made my money that way, and my firm is still doing it. You are all doing it. Every one of your self made millionaires has done it. However, I want to say I have begun to recover my conscience, and I am going to devote my 'swag'—I like to call it that, for that's what it is—to doing away with the cursed system which makes it possible.

"If any of your millionaires feel the same way about it, for God's sake let's cross hands on it. I may be an oddity. It is unusual, though, for a man who has made his money by robbing the people through a monopoly to be called a curiosity. It is also a curiosity to find a man after nearly fifty years of monopoly-mongering to admit it and undergo a change of heart. But I am sincere."

"How are you getting rid of your robber wealth?" Mr. Fels was asked.

"For one thing," he replied, "I am interested in spreading the single tax propaganda throughout the world. The movement is active in the United States, England, Canada, South Australia, New Zealand, New South Wales, Denmark, Sweden and other nations.

Wants All to Have an Equal Chance.

"If we had an educational fund of $1,000,000 a year we'd upset the world in twenty years as to economic conditions. I will be one of twelve to supply the funds.

"I intend to use my money to force into use land that is being held for the increment. I do not believe in speculating in land values. It is an enormous swindle. As a business man and landowner I have taken advantage of monopolies which private ownership of lands gave me, lands which rightfully belong to many instead of the few. Perhaps I would have made a fortune despite the laws, but I want to bring into operation conditions of equal manhood, conditions under which all have an equal chance."

Mr. Fels said he did not mean that he and Rockefeller and Morgan and Carnegie had been personally dishonest in the accumulation of their fortunes.

"John D. Rockefeller," he continued, "is a mild, harmless man with a mistaken ideal, but personally honest. None the less he is a robber."

GATES AS LAVISH HOST.

Builds Hotel, Gets Twenty Yachts and $15,000 Auto to Entertain Nobility.

William Angus D. Montague, duke of Manchester, and the duchess, formerly Miss Helen Zimmerman of Cincinnati, have accepted an invitation from John W. Gates to spend a week at his estate at Port Arthur, Tex., upon their return from Mexico.

Gates is preparing an elaborate entertainment for his distinguished guests. An order has been placed for a $15,000 automobile and twenty yachts for their exclusive use.

There will be a banquet in their honor at which 100 of the most prominent men of the United States will meet the duke and duchess in the hotel recently built for Gates.

How Dog's Offense Saved a Train.

Annoyed by the barking of a farmer's dog, William Miller followed the animal for a mile along the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and in a deep cut near Cameron, W. Va., found a pile of ties on the track, apparently placed there to wreck a train. The New York and Chicago express No. 7 was due at the moment, but as the train was thirty minutes late Miller succeeded in clearing the track before it appeared.

Pony's Shoes in the Baby Class.

What is believed to be the smallest horse in the United States was shod the other day by W. C. Hedrick of Prospect Park, near Chester, Pa. The Siberian animal, known as Adonis, stands thirty inches high and weighs 100 pounds. It is owned by E. Bosch, who has been visiting Charles E. Hazell at Norwood. Special shoes, each about the size of a silver dollar, had to be made for the horse.

Effects of Ivy on Walls.

A writer in the Paris Revue Scientifique discusses the effects of ivy growing on walls of various kinds and arrives at the following conclusions: It is not advisable to allow the plant to grow on walls formed of newly cut stone, since it soon destroys the smooth surface, although the damage does not extend to any noticeable depth; it is bad for ancient walls of cut stone, the joints of which have been opened by the various effects of time and the weather; it is not injurious on brick walls if the inhabitants are not subject to rheumatism, and it is useful on ancient walls of rubble since its interlaced branches tend to prevent the fall of loose stones.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I have suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and have used several well known kidney medicines all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley's Kidney Pills I was subjected to severe backache and pains in my kidneys with suppression and oftentimes a cloudy voiding. While upon arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent. better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and once more feel like my own self. All this I owe solely to Foley's Kidney Pills, and always recommend them to my fellow sufferers." Sold by all druggists.

The Deadly Nightshade.

The reason why nightshade appears to be deadly in some cases and merely injurious in others may be traced to the difference existing between woody and deadly nightshade. The commoner species, the flowers of which are to be found in nearly every hedge, suggestive of its cousins the potato and tomato, has berries that would probably cause discomfort if eaten, but would not kill anybody. But the real deadly nightshade, which is very rare, is the plant from which we get belladonna, Shakespeare's "insane root that takes the reason prisoner," and its berries are so poisonous as to have given the plant its old English name of dwale, taken from the French deuil, mourning.—London Globe.

Itch Relieved at Once.

That terrible itch disappears with the FIRST DROPS of a simple compound of oil of wintergreen, thymol and glycerine mixed in D. D. D. Prescription. This soothing, healing lotion used externally kills the eczema germ instantly.

Heretofore the D. D. D. remedy has been sold only in $1.00 bottles; but as a special offer, any sufferer in this town who has never tried D. D. D. can now try this remedy in a special bottle at 25c. It cures the itch instantly. We KNOW this. Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

His Style of Voice.

"Most musical critics are fools!" said Robinson. "Why, one of them recently wrote in his report of a concert where I sang that my voice was a baritone, whereas my voice is a pure basso!"

"Yes," said Jones, "a basso relievo."

"Basso relievo!" replied Robinson, sharply. "Why, there is no such voice!"

"Oh, yes, there is," added Jones—"basso when you sing and a relief when you leave off, you know."—Musical America.

For Diseases of the Skin.

Nearly all the diseases of the skin such as eczema, tetter, salt rheum and barbers' itch, are characterized by an intense itching and smarting, which often makes life a burden and disturbs sleep and rest. Quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It allays the itching and smarting almost instantly. Many cases have been cured by its use. For sale by all dealers.

ROCK ISLAND RAIL HORROR

Death List at Glad Brook May Number Sixty.

FAST TRAIN WAS TELESCOPED

Forty-Five Bodies Have Been Taken From the Wreck of a Rock Island Passenger Train in Iowa and More Than Thirty Injured Passengers Are in Hospitals at Marshalltown—When Wreck Came the Train Doubled Up on Itself, Causing Frightful Disaster.

Marshalltown, Ia., March 22.—From the wreckage of the Rock Island's St. Paul-bound train, four miles north of Green Mountain, Marshall county, forty-five bodies have been taken and thirty-one who were injured have been brought here. It is feared that the death list resulting from the crash which occurred on the Great Western tracks, will reach sixty. Three thousand searchers worked in the debris in an effort made to account for a number of passengers who are missing.

The wrecked train was a combination of a train from St. Louis and one from Chicago. The combination train was forced to make a detour over the Great Western tracks on account of the burning of a bridge seventeen miles north of Cedar Rapids. It was while the train was moving over this stretch of track that the crash came. The engine left the track and stuck in the bank in a deep cut at the top of a hill while going at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour. The second engine hurled itself on top of the other, crushing it further into the earth. The sudden impact caused the Pullman sleeper to telescope the smoking car just behind, driving the sleeper clear through the car. The smoker in turn telescoped the women's day coach. In these two cars the death loss was appalling, there being eighty passengers in the women's coach and almost as many in the smoker.

In the sleeper only two were killed and five or six hurt, according to Pullman Conductor E. W. Jay of this city. The wreckage caught fire and bodies of the dead were badly burned.

Hardly had the rear cars comprising the train come to a standstill before the injured people began to rush out. For an instant they were struck immovable by the horror of the situation, then they rushed to the crushed day coach and began the work of rescue, while one of the uninjured trainmen hurried to Glad Brook to give the alarm.

All of the dead except John Banbridge of Hartford, Ont., were westerners. The bodies of ten men, two women and two girls have not been identified. More of the dead hailed from Waterloo, Ia., than from any other point.

PACKERS INDICTED

Violations of Anti-Trust Law Charged by Federal Grand Jury.

Chicago, March 22.—Indictments have been returned against the National Packing company and ten subsidiary concerns by the federal grand jury which has been investigating for the last three months alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law. The indictments were returned before Judge Landis. Beside the National the following concerns, all branches of the National Packing company, were indicted:

G. H. Hammond company, Michigan; Anglo-American Provision company, Illinois; Omaha Packing company, Illinois; Fowler Packing company, United Dressed Beef company, New York; St. Louis Dressed Beef and Packing company, Western Packing company, Denver; Colorado Packing and Provision company, Denver; New York Butchers' Dressed Meat company, and Hammond Packing company, Illinois.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the indictments came the filing of a suit by the government seeking the dissolution of the National Packing company. The action is known as a suit in equity and is believed to mark the beginning of the end of any open combination of the packers under the guise of a single company.

What Is in a Name?

Waukegan, Ill., March 22.—Thieves who mistakenly believed there was something of golden promise in the name of Rockefeller, Ill., a village a few miles west of here, were disappointed when an entrance into the postoffice of the town netted the ambitious robbers just 10 cents in cash and 25 cents in postage stamps. Apparently disgusted over their luck, the thieves tore up the stamps and left them in a bright red heap at the entrance to the postoffice.

Alleged Night Riders Indicted.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 22.—Indictments charging Dr. D. A. Amos, J. A. Malone, Guy Dunning, Newton Nichol, John Robinson and Irvin Glass with implication in the night rider raid in this city on the morning of Dec. 7, 1907, have been returned by the grand jury. It is thought that many more indictments are to follow.

TAGGART STILL IN THE RUNNING

Refuses to Promise to Remain
Off the Track.

LAMB IS OUT TO "GET EVEN"

Governor Marshall Ducks Into Subcellar When Factional Fireworks Begin to Shower, and Views With Well-Assumed Surprise the Havoc He Has Wrought in Midst of Democratic "Harmony"—State Chairman Stokes Jackson, Speaking for Boss Taggart, Predicts Big Party Split, if Democrats Try to Return to the People For Senatorial Candidate—Slack For the Marshall Idea.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, March 22.—Asked whether or not he will be a candidate for United States senator in 1911 in Indiana, Thomas Taggart says: "I have nothing to say on that subject."

Mr. Taggart refuses to permit his enemies in the Democratic party to force him to the open in his senatorial quest. He has told friends, on the quiet, that he is a candidate for the senate. But since Governor Marshall, with his state convention endorsement scheme, has been trying to organize the opposition against Mr. Taggart, the oily boss prefers the gum-shoe of secrecy as against the brass band of publicity.

Mr. Taggart refuses to allow Governor Marshall and anti-Taggart Democrats to force him to the point of saying he is not a candidate for the United States senate. He continues to be "available."

Having thrown his party into dire confusion, and having started a promiscuous shower of canister, grape and political what-not, where once all was pellucid peace, Governor Marshall has quietly slipped into the official bomb-proof, and refuses to come forth while there is danger that stray missiles may strike the executive person. He denies in soft tones, indicative of surprise, that he did more than make a "suggestion." He affects to be surprised by the uproar and rumpus that now dazes Indiana Democrats, but there is a twinkle in his eye that betokens mischief, and there is that in his attitude which indicates that he is in the fight as a fighter.

The situation can be summed up about as follows: Unless Democrats adopt Governor Marshall's plan of endorsing a senatorial candidate, they will be challenged on every stump to name their man, and Taggart will loom portentously across the scene. The independent voters and the Republicans will press the question right down to election day. The people will know that if they elect a Republican legislature they will get Senator Beveridge, and that if Democrats are elected the voters will not know who they will get for senator.

Mr. Taggart has been busier than usual, and more successful than ever before, in gaining control of his party's organization, city, county, district and state. He has told the state organization and the legislative leaders among the Democrats, to oppose Governor Marshall's convention selection plan. And history tells that from Stokes Jackson, state chairman, all down the line the Taggart fellows, the Shively men, and the Joe Shea followers are opposing any action by the Democratic state convention in the matter of the United States senatorship. Chairman Jackson says the party will split on the proposition.

On the other hand, there is John E. Lamb, whooping things up for the Marshall idea, and proclaiming himself willing to take the convention floor to urge the matter before the delegates. Mr. Lamb of Terre Haute wants to be the senatorial selection. He welcomes anything that may eliminate the vigorous and formidable Thomas Taggart. He cheerfully accepts a fight within the party, if, in such a strife, he may "get even" with the Shively-Taggart group of manipulators who worked the secret ballot game at the legislative caucus of Democrats in 1909. Mr. Lamb was one of the "outsiders" in that little secret caucus grab. He was outspoken against a secret ballot or any sort of concealment. He has been sore ever since, even as John W. Kern, but he has been discreet, nursing his wounds in silence.

In its way Mr. Lamb's present enthusiasm for the Marshall idea is as strong an attack on Taggart, Shively and the manipulators, as any bitter interview that John Worth Kern ever injected into the Democratic party menu in Indiana. Mr. Lamb says nothing about "bribery," as Mr. Kern did, but he declares that he was "first to declare in favor of an open ballot" in the Shively caucus, and by implication adds his own rebuke to that given by Mr. Kern.

L. Ert Slack of Franklin, who also favored an open ballot in the 1909 senatorial caucus of Democrats, is speaking in favor of the state convention endorsement of a Democratic senatorial candidate. His action, like that of Mr. Lamb, is eloquent of his desire to "get even" with the Shively-Taggart-Fairbanks crowd of bosses and double-crossers.
